DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, and 6-8 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Johnson et al (US Patent 6,481,471).

The device of Johnson et al teaches a generally uniformly cylindrical feed roller, the feed roller having a longitudinal axis, and a roller surface (fig.7), a plurality of gripper teeth (18; It should be noted that the helical spike bars 18 meet the definition of a plurality of gripping teeth since Johnson teaches the spike bar feeds a log in a device, in this instance, a debarker) positioned in rows along said feed roller surface, said rows of gripper teeth extending from left and right lateral edges of said feed roller to a mid-circumferential center plane positioned normal to said longitudinal axis, in a generally chevron shaped arrangement (fig. 7), with said rows of said gripper teeth positioned non-perpendicular to said mid-circumferential center plane, whereby the angle of the rows on the left side of the mid-circumferential center plane are equal and opposite to the angle of the rows on the right side of the mid-circumferential center plane, the rows generally parallel to each other and in which said teeth of one row are generally aligned with teeth of adjacent rows (fig.7), and the gripper teeth extend from said roller surface in a direction not parallel to a line extending radially from the longitudinal axis of the feed roller (fig.7). Further, the examiner takes the position that the rows of the gripper teeth 18 are angled from 60-30 degrees. It is noted claims 1 and 8 recites the functional recitation of the feed device "for operation in conjunction with a horizontal hammer mill" and "for gripping..... horizontal hammer mill". The feed roll of Johnson et al is capable of operating in conjunction with a horizontal hammer mill.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 9 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson et al in view of Peterson et al.

Johnson et al teach most of the elements of the claimed invention except for the gripper teeth arranged in non-uniform teeth heights and in a repeating pattern of relatively smaller teeth and relatively larger teeth. Peterson discloses a feed device with teeth repeatedly (column 2, lines 66-68) arranged in rows of non-uniform teeth heights (column 2, lines 60-62) in order to better grip feed material. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the device of Johnson with teeth arranged repeatedly in rows of non-uniform teeth heights as taught by Peterson in order to better grip feed material.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
